

Global warming culprits, judged by size

Countries that have caused disproportionately more global warming than their area would suggest are shown swollen, while low-emitters in relation to their size are shrunken

Global warming culprits, judged by population

Countries that have caused more global warming per billion people are coloured red and low-emitters are dark green

“Flusso Delta” - Periodico di Informazione e Cultura a cura del prof. Bruselli e del Gruppo Redazionale
Santa Caterina